Worlds of Adventure ...

Palladium Books® produces some of the most popular role-playing games ever. From super powered heroes and Ninja Turtles to slayers of the supernatural and masters of super- science and magic.

Player characters can be robots, cyborgs, mutants, aliens, wizards, warriors, cyber-knights, superninja, superspies, psychic investigators (possessing psionic powers), dragons (yes dragons!), elves, wolfen, and dozens of other superhuman heroes!

But that's not all ...

Palladium's role-playing games all use one basic set of rules. This means once you learn one of our games you can play any of them!

Best of all, you can easily bring characters from one game world into any of our other games! In fact, Rifts combines all of our games into one gigantic, multi-dimensional extravaganza.

As if this were not enough, all of Palladium's games are sturdy, 8 1/2 by 11 paperback books; easy to carry, easy to use, and easy to store on a shelf.

Illustrators include Richard Corben, James Steranko, Kevin Eastman, Peter Laird, Steve Bissette, Denis Cowan, Steve Hickman, Mike Gustovich, Kevin Long, and Keith Parkinson.

We suggest role-playing games for readers 12 and older.

Where can you find these Palladium® RPGs?

Most comic book stores and hobby shops carry at least some of our role-playing game books and can order the ones they don't currently have in stock. Or directly from Palladium Books®.

To read about Palladium's entire game line and ROBOTECH videocassettes, send 50 cents for our 24 page catalog to:

THE MARVEL MURAL OPTICAL CONTEST OFFICIAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. The Marvel Mural Optical Contest, sponsored by Marvel Entertainment Group, Inc. ("Marvel") and Phone Programs USA Inc., New York, NY, is an interactive game of skill requiring knowledge of the contest's mural as found in various Marvel publications.
2. The game begins March 1, 1992 and continues through May 29, 1992.
3. Callers with touchtone telephones may access the game by dialing 1-900-420-6622. The charge per call is $3.95. Anyone who is under 18 years of age must get parental permission before calling the game. Callers may access the game from anywhere in the continental U.S., at any time, 24 hours a day, during the term. Callers with rotary telephones are technically ineligible to play. All appropriate prizes won by persons under 18 years of age shall be awarded in their name to a parent or legal guardian. The maximum length of a call is 3 minutes. The telephone number of the originating call must match the telephone number on the prize claim in order for any prizes to be awarded and each telephone number is limited to 4 calls per week during the term.
4. The caller shall hear an introductory message and will then be requested to enter the telephone number he is calling from for call limiting purposes. Each call is a separate game. The caller will have one minute and forty seconds to answer a series of questions relating to the mural. The goal is to answer as many questions correctly in the time allowed. The caller will hear a bell sound effect for each question answered correctly and a buzzer for each incorrect response. Each person who answers a minimum of ten (10) questions correctly will receive a Special Edition Mural poster (approximate value $4.). The caller will be given a prize claim number relating to the originating phone number. The phone number must match the prize claim number in order to earn the poster. All prize claims must be received by June 30, 1992. All prizes have been provided at cost by Marvel Entertainment Group, Inc.
5. Marvel reserves the right to add or replace questions at any time. Players waive any claim or right in the event of ambiguity or error in any questions or answers, and, by entering, players agree to be bound by and subject to these complete rules.
6. Marvel and Phone Programs USA Inc. whose decisions are final. Players acknowledge that the correct answers to all questions are those provided and validated by Marvel.
8. Sponsors and their Service Provider are not responsible or liable for incorrect or inaccurate entry of information by caller, technical malfunctions of the telephone network, computer equipment, software or any combination thereof, or lost or delayed data transmissions.
7. Void in Arizona, Georgia, Maryland, Minnesota and Virginia and wherever else prohibited. Employees and families of Marvel Entertainment Group, Phone Programs USA Inc., Call Interactive and their affiliated companies are not eligible. All federal, state and local laws and regulations apply.
8. A copy of these rules

HOW TO PLAY

1. Study this mural CAREFULLY!
2. Call 1-900-420-6622 from a touchtone phone, you will be charged a flat fee of $3.95. Callers under 18 must have their parents' permission.
3. You will have 1:40 to answer questions related to this mural.
4. You will answer all questions by entering either numbers, initials, words or coordinates on your touchtone phone.
5. When the answer is a word, enter only the first letter of that word.
6. Coordinates are entered number first, letter second (ie: 2P).
7. When locating a single item or character, enter the coordinates of the box in which it is predominately found.

STAN'S SOAPBOX

Hi, Heroes!

By now, I hope you're fully recovered from the culture shock of last issue's announcement, where we learned that Jim (Terminator) Cameron plans to write and direct a proposed mega-movie starring the world's greatest web-slinger!

But you know that maniacal Marvel is never content to rest on its laurels; besides, we always have to have some new excitement popping so that I'll have something to write about in ye old Soapbox every month. So here's another pandemonious pronouncement — so electrifying that perhaps you'd better take it sitting down!

Not only is Jim Cameron arguably the greatest action adventure writer/director in the galaxy, but he's also so tuned in to the mighty Marvel mythos that he is about to tackle a second project of ours! Which one? Hey, wouldja believe — THE X-MEN?!!

Even as you read these senses-stag-gering sentences, Jolly Jim is preparing an entire series of animated X-Men cartoons for TV! But we're not talking the ordinary, run-of-the-mill cartoons you're used to seeing! We're talking Hollywood's greatest actors doing the voices! We're talking animation like you've never seen before! We're talking stories, art-work and special effects that will rival the wonder and spectacle of our mags themselves! We're talking about Jim Cameron personally producing the entire series and giving it the style and scope that only he can bring!

And then, once the cartoon series is under our belt, don't be surprised if we tell you about a live-action X-Men movie, just so Spidey won't be lonely up there on the big screen!

There's more, but I'm out of space, so stay tuned till next ish. Marvel's soaring like an eagle, and we want you flying with us all the way!

Excelsior!

Stan Lee

When we think of March, we think of the future, since the very name "March" implies that we are moving forward, like time eternal. We decided this month to look into the future, aided by noted astrologist and dental hygienist, Jean Predixon.

Join us now as we present our look at the world of tomorrow, or the day after tomorrow, or perhaps the day after next Wednesday ...

In the future, there will be no money! Instead, people will use comic books as currency! And the rarer a comic is, the more it will be worth. The richest man in the world will be the man who owns a complete set of STREET POET RAY!

In the future, every Marvel title will have the letter "X" in front of it's name!

In the future, every comic will have a double-gatefold, die cut, glow in the dark cover ... and there will be no pages on the inside!

In the future, comics will cost $10.00 each, and today's reader will be nostalgic and say, "I can remember when they were only $1.25!"

In the future, dark, gritty characters will become a thing of the past. They will be replaced by tender, sensitive characters. The hottest Marvel titles will be comics featuring Alan Alda and Phil Donahue!

In the future, editor Ralph Macchio will actually show up for work before three in the afternoon. (All right, so the crystal ball was a little hazy on this one.)

In the future, editor in chief Tom DeFalco will start dressing like Odin, and demand to be called "All-Father Tom"

In the future, managing editor Glenn Herdling will perform at Radio City Music Hall, giving a concert with his ability to make music with his hands.

In the future, managing editor Marie Javins' wall of cow drawings by famous artists will become a wall of goats instead.

In the future, WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING writer Mike Lackey will not get hit over the head with a steel chair by a wrestler, as he dreamed of, but he will instead be smacked by a shopping cart pushed by Hulk Hogan in the supermarket.

In the future, editor Mike Rockwitz will have an entire issue of CONAN tattooed on his body. Only his girlfriend will get to read the whole story.

In the future, SLEEPWALKER writer Bob Budiansky will actually start sleepwalking around the Marvel offices. When awakened, he will claim he was merely doing research.

In the future, Bob Harras will get the rights to all the X-books, and go off and form his own separate comics company, called Harras E. Comics. It would be the third largest comic book company in the country. Terry Kavanagh will be thankful that EXCALIBUR starts with an "E", not an "X"!

In the future, Roy Thomas and Fabian Nicieza will battle it out to see which one of them has the right to write every single Marvel Comic every month. It will end in a draw, with the two splitting the Marvel line equally.

In the future, editor Rob Tokar will edit a comic that will not get canceled after six issues or less.

In the future, managing editor Tom Brevoort, who has read every Marvel and DC comic published for the past five years, will actually skip one issue of one series. When asked why, Tom will respond "Well, I can't read everything, you know!"

In the future, comics will be edible! They'll be printed on bread, and after you finish reading an issue, you'll be able to eat it! This will really put a crimp in back issue sales.

In the future, a major Marvel hero will actually reach the big screen. The character? Willie Lumpkin, the ear-wiggling mailman!

In the future, the Marvel Comics company will grow so large that it will crush all other comics companies under its heel like a fifty-foot reptile. Then it will go on a rampage, destroying everything in its path, until it tries to climb the Empire State Building and is shot down by bi-planes.

In the future, Spider-Man and Mary Jane will have lots of babies, and Spidey will find that his web fluid makes a perfect disposable diaper!

In the future, Marvel will do a multi-part crossover that crosses over retroactively into every comic we ever published, and every comic we will ever publish! If you miss one issue, the whole story will be ruined!

In the future, Bill and Ted will actually go an entire issue without uttering the word "Dude" in BILL AND TED'S EXCELLENT COMIC BOOK!

Those are the predictions we have right now. It should be interesting to see which if any come true. In closing, we'd just like to remind you not to miss this month's issues of X-NAMOR, and X-EXCALIBUR! See you next X-Month!

Hey, Bill & Ted!

EDITOR: Fabian Nicieza ASST. EDITOR: Evan Skolnick

Write to: Hey, Bill & Ted! c/o MARVEL ENTERTAINMENT GROUP,
387 Park Avenue South, New York, NY 10016

Attention Correspondent-Dudes: All letters considered for publication must include your name and address, though we will withhold that info upon request!

Welcome, excellent readers, to yet another sick yet strangely compelling BILL & TED letters page! Before we get down to your most stellar correspondence and our non-heinous responses, we must right a wrong.

It seems we had told Linda Kay, the most excellent founder and president of Bill & Ted's Outstanding Past and Future Appreciation Society, that we would mention the existence of her triumphant fan club. Er, several months ago, in fact.

Here's the deal: For a mere $12, you get a subscription to the quarterly Bill & Ted newsletter, two 8 x 10 glossies of our heroes, a photo membership card, a B & T magnet, and more cool stuff, including information on ordering my excellent B & T merchandise! The address is P.O. Box 4769, San Dimas CA 91773.

So drop Linda a line! It's a most non-non-heinous way to express your appreciation for the past, future, and present... of Bill & Ted!

Before we get to the mail, here's a confidential response to Greg Joyner of Fort Thomas, Kentucky: to get your letter printed, you have to write a decent letter!

And now for our excellent correspondence page, guest-hosted this month by none other than Missy Preston — er, Missy Logan — ah, Missy...wait, no, it is Logan...for now...

Whoa, let's not be too nice, shall we? Maybe I won't answer your silly letters at all if that's how —

We're sorry, Ms. Pr — Logan. Please accept our humblest apologies.

All right, then. Here's our first caller! Um, I mean, writer.

Yo Dudes,

How's it goin'? After seeing Bill & Ted's Bogus Journey three times since its release in Britain, watching the cartoon almost as a ritual five times per month, not to mention laughing my head off (oops, there it goes) whilst reading your most excellent comic book, I had to write to totally congratulate you dudes and dudettes on a most triumphant job.

Question: Is an even number of non's (as in heinous) a bad thing, and an odd number of non's a good thing?

I'm a 21 year-old total metalhead, who would love to hear from any American babes into B & T and metal.

Station, dudes. Cheers.

P.S. Missy, will you marry me?

Ahem! Well, Damion, you British dudes don't beat around the bush, do you?

Umm...okay!

By the way, you're right about the heinous thing. And I like Cheers, too! It's my favorite show!

Dear Excellent Bill S. Preston, Esq. & Ted "Theodore" Logan,

Do you have a guitar that I can buy? I was wondering if you could send me the next issue?

Send me every one of BILL & TED'S EXCELLENT COMIC BOOKS. How many are there? How much will it cost me?

One more thing — do you have a fan club?

Eric (Last Name Withheld by Request)
Mesa, AZ

Geez, Louise — oopsie, I mean Eric — didn't you read that thing up there? Write to them, you silly! And stop being so greedy!

Station, Dudes and Babes!

Congratulations on a most atypical magazine! I have #2 and #3 and I'm waiting for my local Forbidden Planet emporium to get #1 back in stock. I own Excellent Adventure and I've watched it 30 or so times, and I've seen Bogus Journey four times now (in a week!). Most non-heinous!

Actually, I'd like to see more B & T films. Maybe Bill & Ted: The Early Years, fully explaining Granny S. Preston, Esq., the Hippity Hoppitying Behemoth, and how Wyld Stallyns started. Or there could be the Wyld Stallyns' Silver Anniversary Tour, set in the 21st Century! Al Pacino could play Ted and William Hurt could play Bill! Or you could bring back Alex and Keanu (I would not complain!).

I love the comic! Stellar artwork! It really suits the characters! Keep up the most excellent work! I'm 22 and I'd like some pen pals, please!

A question...is there an official B & T fan club, or is there just this magazine?

Caroline O'Connell

Doesn't anyone read anymore? Look, Caroline, we just told you about the fan club, what do you want from us?

And what's with this 'Dublin 6', stuff...is that some kind of copycat city or something? Because I happened to be James Joyce in a previous life, and I don't remember more than three Dublins being around...

Hey Most Triumphant Dudes!

What can I say apart from, "Wow! Excellent! Congrats on a totally skillastick comic, film and whatever is to follow. Where can I get a tee-shirt? Gee, bet ya won't print this letter coz my vocab is limited to words such as "humongously ace!" and "whoa!"

Ock-wow! Excellent! Totally unlimitness thanks for two fantastic films and an over-gracious comic, love ya to bits. Plus Milk & Cheese are cool!

Yvette (Last Name

Yvette, you sound sooo cool! But you guys in England don't have tee-shirts? Bogus! At least you have milk and cheese, but still...

Hey Marvel Guys,

I'm 18 years old and a definite fan. But there's one thing I don't understand. In the third comic book, Ted's father — Captain Logan — comes to get money from Ted because Missy has run up a credit card bill. Missy and Captain Logan? I thought Missy was Bill's stepmother! What happened? Did I miss something?

Heather Sikes
Jax, FL

I'll say you did, Heather-babel! Get with the program, dudette! I'm Mrs. Pres — Logan, and proud of it! So, uh, Heather...what does your father look like?

NEXT MONTH:

Cancel the future! In fact, cancel everything (except your subscription)! It's a no-time-limit free-for-all between Bill & Ted, DeNomolos and his revenge squad (who kill), and the senile, out-of-control, wacky Chronological Order!

Don't look back, Bill & Ted...because your past is catching up with you...in thirty days!
